Sai Spiritual Stories

This book presents a number of spiritual stories related to the Five Universal Human Values Truth, Right Conduct, Peace, Love and Nonviolence. To each of these Values a short definition and the practical aspects related to them are included. Additionally, the concept of Educare declares that these Human Values are inherent in man and how they can be elicited from within. The chapter 'The Art of Storytelling' is giving new inspiration to the ancient tradition of highlighting moral or spiritual messages through narration.

The fictitious stories or parables presented in this book were either told by or inspired by Sathya Sai Baba. Thorbjörn Meyer has compiled and retold them in his unique, humorous way by bringing the message close to the hearts and minds of the listeners. During his many years of seminar activities and in casual conversations, it was his stories and his art of telling them that his audience was always eagerly waiting for. Therefore he will be remembered as a great storyteller. Now, here – as one of his final efforts – we receive with love and gratitude a small collection of his narrative treasure compiled for us by his own hand.

"I have been using these stories in the ESSE Institute Seminars over the past twenty years and have found that they are remembered and contribute to participants' actually practicing these Human Values."
